COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING

Transacts Some Very Important Business Monday Night.

The town council held a special meeting last Monday night to consider several important matters left over from the last meeting.

The first matter brought up was the question of fixing the tax valuation on the property of the two glass companies. A telegram from Mr. Lydett was read asking that a valuation of $3000 a acre be placed on the site that the plants are to occupy and $400 a acre on all property that the companies are to acquire under an agreement with the town site owners. After some discussion a motion was made and carried that the valuation be fixed at $300 and $600 for a period of ten years and that if the property should be sold by the Glass Companies that it should take its place on the tax roll the same as any other property.

Another motion was made and carried that a valuation of $500 a acre be placed on the Redcliff Rolling Mills & Bolt Company's property. A letter was read from the Redcliff Realty Company protesting against the changing of dirt from excavations in the lanes. The mayor was appointed a committee of one to look into this matter.

The matter of submitting by-laws on the water question and also the question of drilling gas wells for the Rolling Mills and the Glass Companies was next taken up and a motion was made and seconded that the mayor be appointed a committee of one, along with a member of the Realty Company to see a solicitor and have him draw up the proposed by-laws preparatory to submitting them to the rate payers. Carried.

A bill was received from Clarke, McCarthy & Macleod, solicitors, of Calgary, for $250 for attorneys' fees in connection with the matter of nuking of Redcliff a town. On a motion the bill was placed on file.

There being no further business the council adjourned.

Barber's have received their call for Xmas.

HERE FROM GREENVILLE, OHIO

Mr. James H. Burns, of Greenville, Ohio, arrived in Redcliff last Wednesday morning and when seen by the Review said he was surprised at the progress made by Redcliff since he was here last, there being practically nothing in north end of town at that time. Mr. Burns owns considerable property in this section and is very well satisfied with the way things look in and about Redcliff.

C. N. R. RIGHT OF WAY TO REDCLIFF

The following dispatch recently appeared in Montreal Free Press: "Medicine Hat, Alta., Nov. 17.—It is understood here on the best of authority that the C. N. R. is about to enter Medicine Hat over a different route from that originally proposed. For some time past officials of the road have been in the city buying trackage and right of way. It may be definitely stated that the road is to enter out of the city below the cemetery, across the river by a slanting dike and from the C. P. R. tracks 600 feet from the lake, either at a high level bridge or through a subway. It will spring from there to Redcliff, through which town a right of way has already been purchased.

BREVITIES

We do not believe that there is a water line on the North American continent that would shut the water supply off during the busy hours of the day to make a connection for a new line. The turning off of the water is a serious matter and those new lines should be connected up after 6 o'clock at night and before 6 o'clock in the morning.

Community table after was makes a beautiful Xmas gift. On sale at Barber's.

Now everybody be good, for Benjamin Kirk, our new chief of police, is on duty and they may be very deep.

Mr. W. T. Lockwood, of the Redcliff Realty Company, returned to Redcliff last Tuesday after a two weeks' visit to the States.

The new brick company will be known as the Redcliff Poured Brick Company, Limited.

A church of England service will be held at Maple Hall Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. D. D. Fitzgerald, of Edmonton, was in Redcliff Thursday and was very enthusiastic over the outlook here and predicted that Redcliff would outgrow the Hat in a very few years.

Arrangements are being made for a singing group to be given at Maple Hall at 8 o'clock. Prizes will be given for best gentlemen and lady costumes also for the best costume.

A. J. Wallace, the proprietor of the new sales and livery barn, is now ready to do heavy hauling and draying. Anyone wishing to work with him apply to the above or to Martin Fleming, manager.

A NEW COMPANY FORMED

A new real estate company has been formed with headquarters at Redcliff, to be known as the Stoner, Lockwood & Wheeler, Limited, with a paid up capital of $100,000. They will deal in Canadian investments and Redcliff townsite property.

WILL BE SUBDIVIDED SOON

The Redcliff Realty Company have made arrangements to subdivide the southeast quarter of section 8 into town lots, which is the southeast end of town and which is commonly known as the Realty Company farm. Considering the fact that the new brick company is building just east of this quarter section the lots in this new subdivision will probably be sold very readily.

NOW OCCUPY NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Shurvin and family moved into their new residence last Monday. This is undoubtedly the finest house in Redcliff and is a great credit to Mr. and Mrs. Shurvin and also a handsome addition to Redcliff.

Barber's crockery stock will arrive on the 10th of December.

DR. C. H. KOHLER IN TOWN

Dr. C. H. Kohler, president of the Redcliff Realty Company, arrived in Redcliff Thursday morning. When seen by the publisher of the Review he said that he was here helping the rest of the Realty boys in securing another industry for Redcliff. A gentleman, representing one of the largest industries of its kind in the States, arrived yesterday afternoon and the company went over the matter with him of establishing a plant in Redcliff. It is not known what the outcome of the conference was but the members of the company were looking very well pleased after the conference, and the Review expects to be able to announce another large industry before the first of the year.

HAVE GONE TO HOUSEKEEPING

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Pearce, who have been living in Medicine Hat for the past two weeks, have moved into the house formerly occupied by the Sherwin family. Mrs. Pearce, although coming from Minneapolis where she had a host of friends, is very well pleased with Redcliff and will undoubtedly take a prominent part in the social life of this town.

FREEMAN-KLEWEN.

At the Church Saturday evening, Mr. Ernest Freemann, of the Redcliff Milling Company, and Miss Elizabeth Klewen, recently coming from Courland, were united in marriage by the Rev. O. Levan Gorden. After the ceremony the bridal party, including many guests, retired to Hotel Redcliff where a sumptuous dinner was partaken of. The Review joins with their many friends in wishing Ernest and his bride all happiness and long life.

J. M. DANIELS IS IN REDCLIFF

Mr. J. M. Daniels, president of the Redcliff Mill & Elevator Company, and father of Mayor Daniels, arrived in Redcliff last night from Minnesota. This is the first time Mr. Daniels has been here for over a year and he was very much surprised at the progress made by Redcliff since he was here last. He will be here for several days.

The following real estate transactions were reported by the town site owners this week: Lots 21 and 22, block 46 lots 9 to 14 inclusive, block 60 lots 33 to 38 inclusive, block 108 lots 3 to 12 inclusive, block 109 lots 35 and 36, block 109 lots 37 and 38, block 60 lots 5, block 125 lots 12 and 14, block 126 lots 11 and 12, block 60 lots 39 and 40, block 109 lots 41 and 42, block 60 lots 43 and 44, block 60 lots 45 and 46, block 126 lots 6 and 7, block 77.

We wish to call the attention of our readers to the attitude of the Medicine Hat papers toward the Redcliff news. Practically all Redcliff news in these papers appears under a Medicine Hat heading and is generally clipped from the Redcliff Review, and which is given to our readers about three days before it appears in the Hat papers.

MAYOR DANIELS STATEMENT

Below is the Mayor's Statement in Reply to the Affidavits Read to the Council.

A Reply by Dr. Stoner Follows.

Fellow Citizens—Last week's issue of the Review brought to your attention the fact that proceedings were being instituted to have me ousted from the mayor's chair. The Review also wanted to state one of the means employed, whereby my assistants hoped to have impeachment proceedings brought into play.

In a recent interview with the editor of the Review I assured him that I would come out with a statement in this week's issue, giving the public the exact status of my case, that the legality of my naturalization is absolutely unquestionable and the grounds for the motion and affidavits of my political enemies. I will here endeavor to give you a clear and concise statement of the facts which have brought about the demand for my resignation.

In order that you may get a clear conception of the case I will return to the election. It was a very spirited one, indeed, so much so, that candidates would think that Redcliff was fighting for home rule. The election results were close, and I feel proud of having won. I even saw a man who was much more fit for the position than myself, a man whose sterling qualities are beyond question.

My political enemies poured hot lava and the ten days after election were spent in devising means whereby the newly-elected mayor of Redcliff might be ousted from office. I presume that it is generally known that the sole instigators of this case lack against me were Messrs. Stoner and Lockwood, members of the Redcliff Realty Company. I wish it to be distinctly understood that Mr. H. O. Wheeler, the managing director of the Redcliff Realty Company, had nothing to do with this petty controversy. He is a clean and clear-cut business man and I esteem him very highly.

My political enemies have been very busy since the election. The Stoner-Lockwood couple had a handful of followers or supporters that they dropped from the ranks, one by one, until there remained but one man to carry on the fight and that man is Dr. R. C. Stoner. Dr. Stoner's grievance against me is mainly that of jealousy. He has harbored an unrelenting hatred towards me for the most petty reasons imaginable. These have come to me indirectly. One would naturally think and expect a man would be broad-minded enough to make no use in personal and state his grievances direct and make plain where he has displeased him. I regret, very much, that so petty a controversy should have to come before the public's notice, but Dr. Stoner's charges have been of such a nature that they have tended to injure my reputation and even the reputation of the town. So, in justice to my friends, myself and more especially the town, I feel that I must state myself in the full light into which I have been forced.

The defeat of Dr. Stoner's cause at the election brought about an apparent irreparable injury to the doctor's policy. With an aroused spirit of vengeance he continued his fight. He carried it over to employ men with the object of obtaining evidence, if possible, as to when I left the United States for my permanent residence in Canada. The doctor's research campaign was centered about Banora, Minnesota, where his relative was heavily engaged in curing evidence, which he hoped to use against me in attacking the legality of my naturalization. These men posed as "representatives" of bonding and guarantee companies, asking information as to the "general character," as they termed it, of the defendant and how long I had been a citizen of Canada, etc. Very amusing, indeed.

Several affidavits were secured from some of my friends, each one tending to show when I left for Redcliff. These were correct in that respect and I am pleased to know of the doctor's philistine opinion in attempting to find a large denouement for a large loss case, when he could have gotten the same information right here at home. An amusing incident of the case is that the affidavits were secured in a town in which I have never lived in in my life.

Among the lot was an affidavit from my brother. He was interviewed by one of these bonding company "representatives" and in an offhand way gave him the desired information, paying no attention to record accuracy, but gave approximately August, 1898, as the time when I left for Canada, which I find upon looking up the records, was only two weeks off. It amused me greatly to receive a letter from my brother two days after his interview with these men which read in part, "Doctor Stoner's men are looking you up."

Doctor Stoner, on the advice of one of his many followers, was led to believe that these affidavits were not sufficiently incriminating to bring about the annulment of my naturalization and consequently my inability to hold office. The doctor in turn, through his solicitor, forced upon the council these affidavits, with instructions to have them brought up at a special meeting and demanding my resignation. The council secured them to the dignity and duty, as I gave support to the measure, obdurate and forced upon it, but it did give support only after it had been made to believe, among other corrupting influences, that all ordinances and by-laws passed during my administration, would be null and void.

Since then the council have been set right on the subject. Their advice has been the most reputable authority in the Province, and I assure you, fellow citizens, that I was legally elected and am a legally qualified and I shall therefore continue in my present capacity, as mayor, in spite of any fears that Dr. Robert H. Stoner may have for the legality of my naturalization.

I trust that this will explain my position in the matter and why I was asked to resign.

Now that the battle is over and the case has been cleared away, let us all join hands and fight for one common end, a Greater Redcliff.

Very sincerely and respectfully,
J. M. DANIELS.

A Reply by Dr. Stoner.

To the Public—In reference to the letter which appears in this issue of the Review, signed by one Edward C. Stoner, I wish to say that Mr. W. T. Lockwood and myself, as a good many in this vicinity and elsewhere know, were the originators of the idea of building a large brick factory at Redcliff, long before Mr. Edward C. Daniels was identified with Redcliff. I am acquainted with the Redcliff Realty Company, and I might say that I have been a member of the Redcliff Realty Company since its formation.

Our endeavors in the up-building of Redcliff are well known to the public. We have fought hard and fair to make Redcliff a great city and we are still fighting for Redcliff. It is because that we want to keep Redcliff's record clean that we have helped to procure the evidence which is now in the possession of the town council and which apparently disqualifies our fair-minded friend, Edward C. Stoner, acting as mayor of this town.

Mr. Daniels has seen fit, instead of meeting this matter fairly and squarely on its merits, to come off-off-on, as his letter will state.

As I have always fought for Redcliff and will continue to the finish, I, Mr. Daniels, will faithfully name any place or a down place where in the aggregate he has lived six months in Canada prior to September, 1910, we have nothing more to say.

Very respectfully submitted,
R. R. STONER.

The Medicine papers have finally discovered that the C. N. R. will have Redcliff on its maps. Their attitude in the past has been to ignore the town and they imagined that the C. N. R. would show the same poor judgement that they have shown. Railroad builders are a habit of building into show when they can reasonably expect to get some freight to handle.

WHAT TO SAY ABOUT REDCLIFF

Redcliff is situated on the main line of the C. P. R., 173 miles east of Calgary, on the banks of the Saskatchewan river.

Natural gas is probably the most valuable asset—meeting the requirements of as great a demand as may be made for manufacturing purposes.

Working coal mines on both sides of the river, and immense deposits cropping out yet unexplored.

Brick and other clay products are manufactured extensively and additional enterprises for this line of industry are in contemplation.

The business houses and residences are practically all of brick—home product.

Silica sands abound, tests of which have proven an excellent quality for glass making.

Industrial sites are donated to new enterprises.

Surrounding territory is in the heart of Alberta's wheat belt, and there are no more prosperous farmers in the world than here.

REDCLIFF ALREADY HAS a steam mill that will grind 78,000 bushels of wheat per month or 930,000 bushels per year.

A large ornamental iron works employing 76 men and will increase daily output to 125 men just as soon as accommodations are provided for housing them.

Two plants for making brick and clay products, the demand for which is increasing constantly.

One Protestant church.

A fine, new, thoroughly modern brick school house.

An excellent gas lighting system and mains laid throughout the city.

An assessed valuation of $400,000 and a municipal tax levy of six mills.

As fine a three-story modern brick hotel as there is in the west.

A perfect system of water works—water pure as the mountain springs.

The first building erected in Redcliff was April 21, 1910, just two years ago last April.

THE SUPPLANTER

A Modern Romance
By WILMOT KAYE

It was some time before Vera received consciousness. We must start at once, she cried feverishly. I must know the worst. Lady Hilda telephoned to Hilda's room, and within an hour was back and started for the south. Lady Hilda sat in the room with Vera and did her utmost to rub her arms, but she was too weak to rise. The blow, for it was not only for David's health that she was concerned. There was over present the dread fear that she had discovered her deception and that she would not now have an opportunity of informing him herself and asking his pardon on her knees. Her courage had been worn away by the long unattended expenses, and she feared the future with trembling.

What shall I say to him, if he knows she asked miserably.

We must hope for the best, Lady Hilda answered hopefully.

The heavy secret was unbearable but at last the cottage appeared in sight. Almost before she knew it she was peeped over the top of the ground and hastened inside. She was in the sitting room, and she rose at the sight of her friend.

Have you told him? How is he? Her gasped and she clutched eagerly at Hilda's arm.

He is better, and the doctor expects that there is no danger of his death, but it is required, Hilda replied.

Does he know? I don't want to tell, and her face wore painful pain. Hilda was touched, and in an instant her love for her friend returned. "She took her in her arms and kissed her forehead."

Have you told him the truth? Vera repeated, and she drew Hilda's hand and kissed it at Hilda's face.

No, I have not told him, Hilda answered quietly.

For a moment Vera staggered and clutched hold of a chair to support herself.

Oh, bless you, she cried brokenly. One last effort to retain her self-control, an effort that she could not make, for she burst into tears, half-smothered, but they seemed to clear her vision.

Don't cry, Hilda said soothingly, he will forgive you.

But she was past any such comfort, and Hilda began to cry with her at the door that lay to the bedroom in which David lay. Her answer was justified, for it opened, and a nurse appearing looked questioning at Vera.

He is sleeping, and must not be disturbed, she said reproachfully. Hilda took up her hat and coat, and she turned to go.

Try your tears, and said peremptorily. We will go out. Don't you understand, Vera, Mr. Clay is very ill. She took her by the hand, and led her from the cottage.

We will walk a little; it will do you good, she continued, and she was at the door that lay to the bedroom in which David lay. Her answer was justified, for it opened, and a nurse appearing looked questioning at Vera.

Dear that it will bring me nothing but unhappiness.

For my sake, Hilda, can you see what I am suffering? Help me, dear. It is a small thing, but I want to be able to tell him that I have done everything to my power to right the wrong I committed.

What must you do to it? Hilda asked of wonderingly.

I did not put it at first. Don't you remember I said that I was Hilda Grant, what the man came to worry me. It was for you I did it, and I shall realize that it was a fortune that he brought I was tempted.

It seemed to doubt that I was Hilda Grant. I could never have deliberately planned to do it. I know it sounds dreadful, never. Then I thought that if I could only get money, and made up my mind to give him what he wanted. You would be so happy with Vaughan. Don't you remember that he said he would never marry a rich wife.

It is that that troubles me, Hilda. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me.

But it is yours. Can you forgive me, dear? I know that I was mean and selfish. I know that I was wrong.

I have nothing to forgive. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me.

I do not deserve your forgiveness, Vera. I know that I was wrong. I know that I was mean and selfish. I know that I was wrong.

I must see Vaughan at once. I wonder if he has been back from London. When he comes, I am going to tell him the truth. I am going to tell him the truth.

Suppose they cannot meet Mr. Clay. No, not for a day or two. You come and stay with me at the Hotel at Hilda's house. You will be near me. I want you, dear. I want you.

Yes, I will go. I shall feel so unhappy. Being you will make me think that I can only find my peace in you. I will come. Hilda answered simply.

I wonder when they will let me see Mr. Clay? Vera asked eagerly.

The doctor will be there by now. He will let me see him. I will let you see him. I will let you see him.

Vera called and they turned towards the door. Hilda looked at her with a smile.

This is my friend, Hilda Grant, Vera said to Hilda's friend, who sat at the young girl.

She knows everything and she has been very kind to me. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me.

Sensible girl, Hilda said cheerfully. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me.

Yes, she said. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me. I am sure that you will help me.

Still Something New to Announce.

This time it is a proposition of even greater interest to investors than any of the many announcements of new factories which we have made during the past month.

Read This:

On and after Nov. 5th and until the first day of December, 1912, we will give to any and every purchaser of lots in blocks 90, 97, 98, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, one share of stock fully paid up and non-assessable, in the Redcliff Motors Company, Limited, until a total of thirty thousand dollars, ($30,000.00) worth has been given away. Every share of this stock will represent one hundred ($100.00) dollars in cash, paid into the treasury of the Redcliff Motors Company, Limited, by the Redcliff Realty Company, Limited. The terms on these lots will be the usual terms of one third cash, one third in six months, and one third in twelve months, with interest at eight (8) per cent. The stock will be transferred to the purchasers when lots are fully paid for, providing the final payment is made within thirty days after same is due. All lots will be sold at our last published price list, which was issued on the 21st day of September, 1912.

The Prices Have Not Been Raised.

THE REDCLIFF MOTORS COMPANY, LIMITED, has a brilliant future. Its large brick factory building is now under construction. It is backed by men of wealth and business ability. The management is thoroughly experienced and able. Already they have several orders for their product and many inquiries. In our opinion their stock will soon be worth double par.

THINK THIS OVER. Did you ever hear of a proposition to equal it?

This is only one of the many things we are doing and are going to do to make Redcliff a large city.

We now have or have under construction nine large, healthy manufacturing enterprises with a monthly pay roll of over eight thousand dollars ($80,000.00) and

The Eye Opener last week had a good cartoon of old Taff and Wilford Laurier, both with a jag on and underneath the words "There and Outers." H. C. Edwards might have included "Paul Pry, Jr." in the picture.

The way of the transgressor is hard. This would be a good text for the local preacher to take up.

DID THE RIGHT THING.

The action of the town council last Monday night in planning the tax valuation on certain industrial sites at three and five hundred dollars an acre we believe will not only meet with the approval of the new companies but with all public spirited citizens of Redcliff.

With two or three more manufacturing plants the size of the Rolling Mills and the Glass Companies signed-up, we will be in a better position and will not be compelled to give as much to get manufacturing plants to locate here.

LOCALETTES

By Paul Pry, Jr.

I have gone south, for my health. Much better, thank you.

This south country is great. I have discovered the secret of the "weak head" and the strong back.

I understand another "Mac" (visen from the grave) took my place up north this week. Can't freeze old Mac to death. Hope you like him. And eat our grub together. And in that house there ain't a mouse. For there is nothing left to feed her.

Owing to a pressing engagement each day from 7 a. m. till 8 p. m. I have been unable to locate any social news this week.

I have discovered a real live post down south here and give you his latest edition. It is quite original and he fears no ill effects. Listen We all sleep in the same big house And eat our grub together. And in that house there ain't a mouse. For there is nothing left to feed her.

No. 1 is very quiet. But you cannot call him this. We all get the self made. And between us all he's all in.

No. 2 is very gruff. Just on the verge of cranky. But he manages to get enough. And can peddle like a Yankee.

No. 3 is very wee. Not what you call good looking. But he is very fond of tea. And he don't think much of the cooking.

No. 4 is very tall. But sits on a high stool. And also finds there's nothing at all To fill his empty plate.

No. 5 is very early. And always gets up early. That's what he gets upon his plate. Makes all the rest look early.

No. 6 is very nice. And carries bricks and mortar. But he gets quite rough to look at. Because he's waited on by his daughter.

No. 7 is very fat. And thinks he is a joker. But he is just as good at that. As he is at playing poker.

No. 8 is very stout. And quite like a churn: Y'et when the others have gone out He feels his long tape worn.

No. 9 is very shy. And sits like a hump of lead. But he would like two pieces of pie, Instead of so much lead.

No. 10 is very big. And sits quite near the door. He is the boy call him a pig. He's first when they ask for more.

No. 11 is very neat. And he hasn't come to stay. But he has all the other boys For putting grub away.
